Domus, Inc. Welcomes Marissa Sudol as Assistant Account Manager
Leading Philadelphia Agency Continues to Expand Public Relations Practice

Philadelphia, PA (February 19, 2012) – Domus, Inc. announces that Marissa Sudol has joined the 18-year-old integrated marketing communications agency as Assistant Account Manager, Public Relations. In this role, Sudol supports the OKI Data Americas account, in addition to other agency assignments.

Sudol had initially joined Domus as a public relations intern and, upon successful completion of her internship, was invited to join the agency because of her solid skill set and strong work ethic. She assists with the management of OKI's media relations and external marketing communications initiatives, in addition to expanding the company's social media strategy.

"Since joining the Domus team, Marissa's contributions to the agency and the OKI account have already been measurable," said Betty Tuppeny, President and CEO of Domus. "Marissa has excellent writing, social marketing and strategic communications skills. She is a tremendous complement to our public relations practice, and we look forward to nurturing her development as a communications professional and facilitating her growth within our agency."

"I am honored to start my public relations career at Domus, and I look forward to being a part of the agency as it continues to grow," said Sudol. "Domus' team of experienced professionals is the perfect learning environment to foster my professional development. The agency's expanding client base provides a remarkable opportunity for me to support the team's provision of superior service and strategic counsel that are synonymous with Domus."

Sudol graduated from Temple University in May 2011, successfully completing a double major in both Spanish and Strategic Communications, with a concentration in Public Relations. At Temple, Sudol was involved with PRowl, Temple's student-run public relations firm. She was also an active member of PRSSA and the Communications Honors Society. Sudol previously completed internships with the Philadelphia Orchestra Association and the Humane League, a non-profit animal advocacy organization, as a public relations and community outreach intern.
